

● Charity night sets wheels in motion to help disabled woman: A charity night held at the Wynnstay Hotel, Oswestry, hosted by the Road Racing Legends charity raised money, £600 of which was donated to Debbie Dennis of Transhouse towards her funds to purchase a new wheelchair. Pictured are, back, from left, Colin Morris, Philip Morris, Gwen Morris and Cheryl Davies, front, Sue Morris, Debbie Dennis and Andrea Lewis.

Advertiser

Racing fans boost disabled woman

A total of £600 has been donated to a resident of Transhouse in Oswestry following a fundraising event in the town.

The money has been donated to Debbie Dennis in order to help her purchase a new wheelchair.

The funds were raised from the Road Racing Legends charity night at the Wynnstay Hotel, Oswestry, last month when more than 400 people turned out.

Organisers Phil and Gwen Morris, of Whittington, held the event to raise funds for injured riders and local good causes.

Some of the biggest names from the world of TT racing embarked on the town.

Guests included TT winner Michael Rutter; James Whitham, six times British champion; and John McGuinness, who sealed his ninth Isle of Man victory last year.

In addition, a total of 150 items of memorabilia, including helmets, signed pictures and books, were also auctioned, which along with ticket sales, helped to raise more than £12,000 at the event.

Transhouse, established in 1995, assists people with spinal cord injuries to make the move into independent living in a home of their own with the support of personal assistance and technical aids.