

Conrod Reunited with ZX-10R Superbike

McAdoo Kawasaki Racing's Conor Cummins was reunited with his TT lap record-holding ZX-10R at the weekend.

Conor was back in N. Ireland for the first time since his TT crash to attend the wedding of Andrew Bell, one of the McAdoo Kawasaki team crew. Fully 'kilted' up, he also met up with his McAdoo Kawasaki ZX-10R Superbike - now totally rebuilt and back in perfect condition! Conrod's own condition is improving every day - he's getting more strength in his left hand and knee with just one more operation to come in the weeks ahead.

The McAdoo Kawasaki team also received a boost when one of the team's sponsors, DC-AFAM, requested the team's ZX-10R Superbike be shipped to Cologne in Germany for the very prestigious Intermot bike show in October. It's a great honour for the team, and road racing in general, for the bike to be selected this year as they normally have MotoGP and World Superbike machines on their stand. The bike has been one of the most successful machines in road racing history - it currently holds the Dundrod 150 lap record, outright Southern 100 course record, TT Superbike lap record, more 131mph TT laps than any other bike and is the fastest bike from a standing start in TT history. Perhaps it would hold more records if Conrod had made it to Dundrod in August!

The team would also like to thank Kawasaki Motors UK for their assistance in rebuilding the bike and for all their support in 2010.
