Businesses hailed for aiding fund

Business people in Oswestry have been hailed after helping to raise thousands of pounds for charity.

Phil Morris, organiser of the Road Racing Legends charity event, said he was grateful for the massive support the function had received from businesses in the area.

He said their generosity would allow all proceeds from the fundraising event at The Wynnstay Hotel in Oswestry on February 20 to go to the Robert Dunlop Memorial Fund.

Mr Dunlop was a Northern Irish motorbike racer who died in May following a crash in a practice session.

Mr Morris said: "The support has been absolutely overwhelming from local businesses."

Some of the biggest names in racing will attend the event. For more details call (01691) 662082.
