ROAD RACE LEGENDS

The sixth Road Legends Charity Evening, held at the Wynnstay Hotel, Oswestry in February, raised a stunning £22,517, bringing the total raised so far to £84,717.

The packed venue was entertained by World and British Superbike stars Neil Hodgson, John Reynolds and Chris Walker, with the charity's patron James Whitham acting as compere. They were joined in the second half by American legend Freddie Spencer.

With 12 current and former TT riders in the room, between them boasting 307 TT replica trophies and five world champions the evening was a racing feast for the fans. A percentage of the money raised is to go to injured Manxmen Connor Cummins and Gavin Hunt, and as usual several other local charities will also benefit.

Phil, Gwen, Sue and Colin Morris are grateful to all the sponsors of the event: Morris Holdings UK Limited, Paper Right, Morris Lubricants, Oswestry Waste Paper, Wynnstay Hotel, Now Group, Footman James, Bonhams 1793, Classic Racer, Michelin, Road Racing Ireland, Annsfotos, Ultra Clean, Eco Binns (Scotland), VMCC, The Flower Gallery (Oswestry) and O.T.I.S Limited, Carole Nash, A to B Taxis, Clwyd Heating, MARS Independent, OS Web.
