

Event will aid injured rider

A Shropshire fundraiser is to help a young rider seriously injured at the Isle of Man TT races this year.

The Road Racing Legends event in Oswestry in February will raise funds for Conor Cummins, who spent weeks in hospital following the crash.

Racing stars, John Reynolds, Chris Walker and Neil Hodgson will speak at the popular annual event.

The 2011 Road Racing Legends night will be the sixth to be held in Oswestry.

They were set up by friends, Sue and Colin Morris from Craven Arms and Gwen and Phil Morris from Oswestry to raise funds for various charities including those involved with the TT races and also local charities and hospices.

Over the past five years the evenings have raised £62,400.

Tickets for the event at the Wynnstay Hotel are £10 and are limited to 350. Contact Sue Morris on (01588) 672426 or Gwen Morris on (01691) 662082.
